Observed patterns

Revenue grows from 820 in FY2022 to 1,285 in FY2025. Net profit reaches 82 in FY2024 and then falls to 68 in FY2025. Operating cash flow also falls to 42 in FY2025, while inventory, receivables, capital expenditure, and debt increase.

Management context and review questions

• Management notes recommend reviewing raw material, logistics, energy, and employee costs before explaining the FY2025 profit decline.

• The increase in inventory and trade receivables should be reviewed with working-capital ageing schedules and customer collection terms.

• Higher capital expenditure and debt should be considered together when evaluating the expansion period.

• These observations are evidence-based review prompts, not an audit opinion, investment recommendation, or proof of a single cause.
